

The Long Island Arts Council at Freeport Collaborates with The Long Island Philharmonic

EXCITING PROGRAMS FOR LONG ISLAND'S YOUTH

The Long Island Philharmonic, now in its 30th year as the only professional orchestra serving both Nassau and Suffolk Counties, proudly maintains the standard for music excellence and education. The Long Island Arts Council at Freeport is pleased to announce these opportunities to work together to provide outlets for kids and teens to grow and explore a passion for music.

Master Classes

Selected student musicians attending Long Island schools are offered an invaluable opportunity to perform for and work with some of the world's finest musicians. Participation is limited and requires a teacher recommendation.

Upcoming Master Classes are as follows:

- "Call for Christine/Raoul" with Franc D'Ambrosio, Broadway Vocalist
- Trumpet with Alex Holton, Long Island Philharmonic Principal Trumpet
- Violin with Nadja Salerno-Sonnenberg, Classical Soloist with Long Island Philharmonic

All Classes are Free and Open to the Public. Download an application at www.liphilharmonic.org

Orchestra at Work

Open Rehearsals for School and Community Groups

Have you ever wondered how a professional symphony orchestra prepares for a concert? Students are given an opportunity to sit in as the Philharmonic rehearses and prepares for concert night. Students listen as the conductor interacts and collaborates with world-class musicians. Music students can relate, bringing their own experience as musicians with them. Admission is Free!

Open Rehearsal Dates this Season:

- Friday, November 20, 2009
- Saturday, March 27, 2010
- Sunday, April 18, 2010
- Thursday, May 13, 2010
- Saturday, May 15, 2010

Suggested Grade Levels: 7-12 (grades 4-6 at teacher's discretion)

Kids at Concerts

A great follow-up to Orchestra at Work. Students hear the finished product!
$5/student

- Mozart and More
- Bach...And All That Jazz!
- The Passionate Strings of Nadja Salerno-Sonnenberg

John Funk Memorial Scholarship

Two scholarships, one in Nassau County and one in Suffolk County, are awarded annually to High School Seniors exhibiting outstanding musical and scholastic talent who intend to pursue careers in music.

Application Deadline: May 21, 2010
Download an application at www.liphilharmonic.org

Music Livz is the Long Island Philharmonic's Arts-in-Education Program. Contact Karen Beluso: karenb@liphilharmonic.org, 631-293-2223 x118
Mara Lepmanis: mara@liphilharmonic.org, 631-293-2223 x111
Visit www.liphilharmonic.org

The Long Island Arts Council at Freeport is a non-profit organization celebrating 35 years of serving the Long Island arts community and general public.
Long Island Arts Council at Freeport, 130 East Merrick Road Freeport, NY 11520
516-223-2522 ~ www.liacfreeport.org ~ infoliac@gmail.com